

Marta Jarantowska-Daczkus

dissertation topic: Value system of high school youth in the reality of a globalizing world.

The thesis entitled "Values of high school youth in the reality of a globalizing world" is an attempt to find the answer to the question of whether and how the values and life orientations of young people are transforming in the context of rapidly advancing globalization processes.

Globalization is a multi-faceted phenomenon and young people are a group particularly exposed to the dangers of a fluid modern world. Adolescence is a time of searching for one's own identity, trying to achieve independence and building a system of value. In an uncertain and changing reality, these tasks become even more difficult as the challenges that young people have to deal with come from both the outside and the inside.

The adolescence, values and life orientations preferred by young people are the dominant theme of the theoretical considerations of this work, as well as the subject of scientific research described in it. Its main goal is to analyze the system of value of young people, which, under the pressure of many new and dynamic external factors, may be subject to frequent transformations.

Aspirations and lifestyle of young people are worth analyzing and describing, as they are a picture of new generations, significantly different from the previous ones. Values and life orientations are the foundations for building a modern society. Awareness of their existence and knowledge of them is a prerequisite for planning future activities aimed at creating friendly, open society, giving the opportunity for development and mutual participation in this proces.